IMPORTS EX ITALY TO GREECE

The trade lane between Italy and Greece is highly important, both in terms of imports to Greece as well as of exports from Greece. At DHL Freight we improved our general ECE and LTL service:

Two linehaul departures each week from Milano to Athens have been added as well as additional linehaul departures from Verona to Athens on Tuesday and from Milan to Thessaloniki on Friday.

We are now offering five departures from Italy to Greece on a weekly basis

- From Verona to Athens every Tuesday and Friday (+1 additional departure on Tuesday)
- From Milan to Athens every Tuesday and Friday
- From Milan to Thessaloniki every Friday (new line going directly to Thessaloniki) on Friday

Our customers benefit from various aspects

- Strong improvement in transit times from Italy to Greece by two days in Athens and two to three days in Thessaloniki (depending on the point of departure in Italy)
- Major business centers in Italy (Milano, Verona) and Greece (Athens and Thessaloniki) benefit from significantly shorter transit times ECE
- A higher frequency of departures on Tuesday ensures that all cargo will arrive in Greece within the same week of pick-up
- Later booking cut-off for the customers' transport orders: when handing in the order of imports from Italy until Thursday 02:00 p.m., the order is picked-up in Italy on Friday, departs on the same day and will be delivered in Athens and / or Thessaloniki on Monday.
- All departures from Italy on Fridays are delivered in Athens and Thessaloniki areas on Monday - meaning one or two business days of transit time for our customers
- No arising additional costs for the customer: the new and significantly improved ECE service will be offered at the same rates
- A comprehensive customer service support and track & trace visibility is offered for our customers
- ADR capacity is provided on all lanes
